What are the steps of RCIA? - RITE OF CHRISTIAN INITIATION OF ADULTS

Prior to beginning the RCIA process, an individual comes to some knowledge of Jesus Christ, considers his or her relationship with Jesus Christ and is usually attracted in some way to the Catholic Church. This period is known as the Period of Evangelization and Pre-Catechumenate. For some, this process involves a long period of searching; for others, a shorter time. Often, contact with people of faith and a personal faith experience lead people to inquire about the Catholic Church. After a conversation with a priest, or RCIA director, the person, known as an "inquirer," may seek acceptance into the Order of Catechumens, through the Rite of Acceptance. During this Rite, the inquirer stands amidst the parish community and states that he or she wants to become a baptized member of the Catholic Church. The parish assembly affirms this desire and the inquirer becomes a Catechumen.

The Period of the Catechumenate can last for as long as several years or for a shorter time. It depends on how the person is growing in faith, what questions they encounter along the way, and how God leads them on this journey. During this time, the Catechumens consider what God is saying to them in the Scriptures, what changes in their life they need to make to respond to God's inspiration, and what Baptism in the Catholic Church means. When a Catechumen and the priest and the parish team working with him or her believes the person is ready to make a faith commitment to Jesus in the Catholic Church, the next step is the request for baptism and the celebration of the Rite of Election. Even before the Catechumens are baptized, they have a special relationship to the Church.

The Rite of Election includes the enrollment of names of all the Catechumens seeking baptism at the coming Easter Vigil. Typically, on the first Sunday of Lent, the Catechumens, their sponsors and families gather at the cathedral church. The Catechumens publicly express their desire for baptism to the diocesan bishop. Their names are recorded in a book and they are called the Elect.

The days of Lent are the final Period of Purification and Enlightenment leading up to the Easter Vigil. Lent is a period of preparation marked by prayer, study, and spiritual direction for the Elect, and prayers for them by the parish communities. The Celebration of the Sacraments of Initiation takes place during the Easter Vigil Liturgy on Holy Saturday when the Elect receives the sacraments of Baptism, Confirmation and Holy Eucharist. Now the person is fully initiated into the Catholic Church.

The Basilica will be forming an RCIA Group this year. If you or someone you know is interested in becoming Catholic please contact Fr. Higgs at 304-342-8175 or email: dhiggs@dwc.org.

Summertime and the Livin' Is Easy ... Deep ... Blessed

Cultivating Sabbath leisure in a restless world

By TOM SKORUPA

The season of summer carries rich and varied connotations. Like schoolchildren reveling in their newfound liberation, the days in the U.S. before the Fourth of July through Labor Day offer us irresistible invitations to leisurely rest after our many labors. We hear siren calls to vacation, travel or a variety of outdoor activities. George Gershwin's haunting aria "Summertime" speaks powerfully to this phenomenon. Borrowing from strains of bluegrass and African-American spirituals, the lyrics and mellow, slow-moving melody intoxicate us into keenly felt repose and depth.

I often experienced this soul movement during 15 years on staff at Shantivanam (Forest of Peace), the Kansas City Archdiocesan House of Prayer shaped by Fr. Edward Hays. Summer was prime time for our retreat hermitages in the beautiful woods and rolling hills of northeast Kansas. Even during hot Kansas Julys, a wide range of people came to the forest to rest from the demands of a busy life or ministry and deepen their spiritual life and practice. Next to the Holy Spirit, the forest was the primary spiritual guide; we on staff considered ourselves co-learners and caretakers of a sacred environment. The natural beauty made it easier to open to the gift of Sabbath leisure, which facilitated deep listening, being still with God, and finding a renewed sense of one's life work being grounded in God and capable of greater fruitfulness.

One summertime activity that facilitates a Sabbath spirituality is the fruitful, incarnational exercise of gardening. Immersing one's hands in the soil of creation organically leads to a deeply rooted commitment to care for the Earth, as well as cultivating a more intimate connection with the Creator. Similarly, camping immerses us in nature's beauty and encourages what Pope Francis in "Laudato Si", on Care for Our Common Home" calls an "awe-filled contemplation of creation" (#125).

An especially evocative image is the simple camper called a "foamie." Extremely lightweight and easy on the environment, it is paradoxically strong. Constructed in layers of foam board, glue and fine canvas, its tensile, sustainable strength suggests treading firmly but lightly upon the Earth, with reverence and care. This easy carbon footprint encourages a pilgrim's trust in God's care, ushering one into the realm of the beatitudes. As such it becomes a mobile contemplative hermitage enabling us, in Francis's words, to hear in creation the silent voice of God (#85), for the wonders of creation "afford abundant recreation ... and in their solitude and silence, they refresh us and give rest" (#234).

This spirituality of rest echoes back to Genesis, where humans were first entrusted with cultivating and caring for the Earth (2:15) and where God modeled Sabbath rest after six days of working to bring forth creation by speaking the word (1:3-26). From the authority of this word, now made flesh, Jesus cants a lilting, dulcet melody that underlies Gershwin's tune: "Come to me, all you who labor and are burdened, and I will give you rest. ... For my yoke is easy, and my burden light" (Matthew 11:28-30). From this perspective, immersing ourselves in the word of God and the word made flesh is analogous to contemplating God's first word: Creation. This immersion is exemplified in the four-part contemplative practice, lectio divina. After the work of carefully reading and listening to a biblical text, one ruminates and struggles with it, then prays with what arises from that struggle. In the final stage, contemplatio, one simply rests in God, holding in silence the mystery of the word.

A few concluding insights: First, struggle is inherent in "easy livin." Laudato Si' is largely about the struggle with all that gravitates against care and respect for creation. Like the struggle of lectio, the process of contemplative prayer often requires a lifetime of tensile-like layers of practice before the seemingly endless stream of thoughts inundating our prayer regularly gives way to awe-filled contemplative rest. Second, as Francis asserts, there is an inseparable bond between concern for nature and justice for the poor (#10). Third, the challenges on all these fronts serve to make our practice real and paradoxically provide the energy and grace needed to deepen our connection to our Creator and find resolutions to our crises. Fourth, silent solitude leads to deepening solidarity. In summertime's contemplative livin' we recognize we are on holy ground, and Sabbath beatitude organically grows alongside our capacity for deepening compassion and respect for the poor, oppressed, abused and vulnerable as made in the image of God.

Even though the singer of "Summertime" is oppressed and enslaved, she has an "easy" trust that "a'nothing can harm" her baby because "your daddy's rich and your mamma's good lookin'." In summertime Sabbath livin', we too can easily trust because of the Father's abundant care, mercy and grace and God's maternal gift of a beautiful, redeemed, nurturing Mother Earth.
